Dear Friends:

On behalf of the Huntington school community, I'd like to welcome students, family members, friends and guests to the 2017 Blue Devil Marching Band Home Show. We are thrilled to provide the venue within which our band and several other fine ensembles from across Long Island will showcase their skills and talents.

Blue Devil marching band members and staff have been working tirelessly since the summer on preparing show concepts and music for their 2017 performances. The progress they have made in such a short time with a challenging composition and drill is unimaginable. It has become apparent to anyone who follows their work that they devote considerable time and energy toward perfecting their routines. Their support for each other is unparalleled. I am certain that visiting bands have put forth similar levels of effort and perform with the same sense of pride, determination, and sacrifice. I applaud all groups for their spirit and enthusiasm, and for what they contribute to their schools throughout the year.

The cornerstones of any successful marching band are the dedication, pride and collaboration shared among students, staff and parents. I'd like to thank and commend every individual associated with our band and the other bands that have joined us today. I'd also like to offer special thanks to the Blue Devil Marching Band Parents Association for their ongoing support of our program. Their efforts and commitment are obvious during all band events, including today's show.

Once again, I am so pleased that you are able to attend our home competition. I am confident that you will genuinely appreciate the performances and the collective efforts put forth by each participating group.

Please sit back and enjoy the show!

Sincerely,

James W. Polansky

Dear Marching Band Friends,

Welcome to the Huntington Blue Devil Marching Band Home Show. On behalf of the music department, it is my pleasure to welcome the students, staff, and families of the bands performing today.

Organized in 1934 by James Cloyd Doty, the Huntington Blue Devil Marching Band has maintained the historical significance and tradition of excellence throughout time. Taken from the 1936 edition of The Huntingtonian, the high school yearbook: "Although newly organized, this group has worked very hard and with the cooperation of the student body, the band members have received blue and white uniforms. They gave a new feeling of school spirit to all of the occasions at which they appeared this year". Fast forward to today and the same can be said of our Blue Devil Marching Band. Students and staff, who are filled with pride, passion, and dedication, working hard over the summer, after school, and on weekends. Though the uniforms have taken various forms over the years, the blue and white are ever present. Whether at a high school pep rally, halftime show, community parades, working with younger student musicians, or taking the field for competition, the Blue Devil Marching Band remains a point of pride for this district and community, and has maintained that feeling of school spirit.

Each band here today has their own history and tradition, however long or short. I am certain your performances will showcase the pride and passion you possess. No doubt, you have spent hours rehearsing and refining your musical and visual show down to each note, step, or spin. The support you provide for each other throughout the highs and lows of a season is crucial and through that, lasting friendships and connections are made. Today and throughout this season you are adding to the history and tradition of your band, school, and community.

Thank you to the administrations and Boards of Education of each band represented here today for supporting your students in music education and providing educational, enriching opportunities for them. To each faculty and staff, please accept my gratitude for your willingness to collaborate, be flexible, and understand what marching band is and what is expected of our students. Finally, to all of the band parents and families, a sincere thank you for trusting us with your students as we educate them and ready them to become the next generation of performers, educators, and patrons of the arts. Also, thank you for driving your students to and from rehearsal, giving up your weekends to sit in the crowd at competitions, volunteering your time to serve pizza, wash cars, or work other events to raise the necessary funds for the band, and most importantly, helping continue our history and tradition.

May each band enjoy success as you take the field for competition today and throughout your 2017 season.

Sincerely,

Eric Reynolds

EVOLUTION

A History of the Marching Arts

1957-2017

In honor of the 60th Anniversary of Midland Park High School, we explore the amazing heritage of the marching arts. From iconic drill formations, to distinct musical styles, and the overall look of the field, we examine it all! With help from the voices of Drum Corps Hall of Famers Thom Hannum, Jim Russo, and others we bring back those moments that got us to where we are today and we try to push to where the activity is going in the future. All of this is presented through unique treatments of Patrick Burns, "Celebration Fanfare," which was commissioned in 2007 by the MPHS Concert Band in honor of our 50th Anniversary.

Are there times in your life when the day seems to slip through your fingers and yet others when it drags on? Do you enjoy living spontaneously but often wonder if you've made a rash decision, or do you weigh each decision and sometimes worry you have missed an opportunity?

Experience the 2017 Lindenhurst High School Marching Band's production of "Time". Together, let's journey through the dimensions of time through our use of metric modulations, a variety of tempi, acoustic clock sound effects, imagery and speed of motion.

Dear Daughter,

Marnie – if I could give one thing in life, I would give you the ability to see yourself through my eyes. Only then would you realize how special you are to me.

Dad.

To a very special daughter,

From the day you came into this world, we were as proud as can be blessed with a daughter for everyone to see. So every year we celebrate this very special day to mark another milestone as your life moves on it's way. Just like a caterpillar changes and emerges into a glowing butterfly, you too change from a baby to this incredible young lady.

So happy birthday to you. We wish you all the happiness in the world. We are thankful all year around for you, our very precious and wonderful girl.

Happy Birthday To You.
